

Leave Satellite Radio Alone! DO NOT restrict what they can broadcast. People that buy satellite radio do so because they want no commercials and a wider variety of programming than their local market offers. These people rarely listen to am or fm once they have satellite radio. By offering local weather and traffic, satellite radio is no threat to local stations anyway.